Other Information

Who can participate in heliskiing

Heliskiing is open to skiers and snowboarders who are comfortable making easy turns and can perform several turns without stopping.

Heliskiing allows for rapid progression, guided by our experienced team. Unlike traditional resort skiing, which offers limited opportunities for deep snow, heliskiing enables extensive off-piste exploration.

Technical Level and Physical Fitness

Heliskiing doesn't require expert skills. With appropriate equipment, such as wide skis suited for deep snow, you can maintain your ability on the slopes in all snow conditions. However, good physical fitness enhances the enjoyment of your heliskiing adventure. We welcome both beginners and advanced skiers.

For a more personalized experience, we recommend our private programs, which provide a custom adventure tailored to your group.

What should I bring for the activity?

Bring your usual ski gear for a winter activity. You'll stay warmer than in a ski resort, as it's not cold in the helicopter, and the climbs are shorter than on a ski lift.

- Two pairs of gloves: Your gloves will get wet quickly as you put on and take off your skis for each descent. Bring one or two spare pairs.
- Sun protection: Sunscreen and sunglasses. In the mountains, the sun's reflection is very strong, so be sure to have sunglasses with at least category 3 lenses.
- Ski goggles: Even on sunny days, in powder conditions, sunglasses alone won't be sufficient.

Accommodation

Discover a wide range of accommodation options tailored to your preferences, from charming boutique hotels to luxurious 5-star resorts, and cozy catered chalets. Located in Vielha, Arties, and Baqueira, each area offers a unique ambiance:
